Become a Friend of the Festival

The Festivals

Cambridge Wordfest now runs two festivals a year, the main spring festival in April and the winter festival which takes place on the last Sunday in November. The spring festival lasts several days and brings to Cambridge some of the best established and new writers. The winter festival takes place on just one day and has all the vitality and challenge of the spring festival but with a distinctly festive feel. All events take place in beautiful venues in the centre of this historic University City.

The Friends

The Friends was formed to support and raise money for the festivals and to help guarantee that we continue to bring the best literary events to Cambridge. Our festival friends are people who love books, love the festivals and love the vibrant atmosphere they create.

Volunteers

Many festival friends are also volunteers and help contribute to the smooth running of the festival. Please let us know if you would like to get involved as we always welcome friends who would like to help. Email admin@cambridgewordfest.co.uk with 'volunteer' in the subject line.
